A Soul Waiting to Be Reawaken

The Encounter opens with poet
Christian Wiman
and classical pianist
Lio Kuok-Wai

"Expectation is the very structure of our nature, it is the essence of our soul. It is not something calculated: it is given. For the promise is at the origin, from the very origin of our creation. He who has made man has also made him as 'promise.' Structurally man awaits; structurally man is a beggar; structurally life is promise."
